WRIT PETITION NO.21636 OF 2002

ORDER: (Per TCSR,J)

The impugned order which is now being assailed before us is an order passed by the learned Special Court on an interlocutory application filed seeking to implead the party respondents 4 to 8 to the main proceedings.

It is fairly represented by the learned counsel appearing for the petitioners that the writ petitions filed before this Court assailing some other orders passed by the learned Special Court in the same proceedings in various interlocutory applications ended in dismissal with an observation that the finding mentioned therein will not have any prejudicial effect on the merits to be adjudicated by the Special Court at the culmination of enquiry. Exercising certiorari jurisdiction, this Court may not interfere with such interlocutory orders passed by the Special Court which can adopt its own procedure to be followed by framing the necessary Regulations. Even otherwise, we see nothing to interfere with the order now being impugned.

The Writ Petition, therefore, fails and is dismissed. No order to as to costs.
